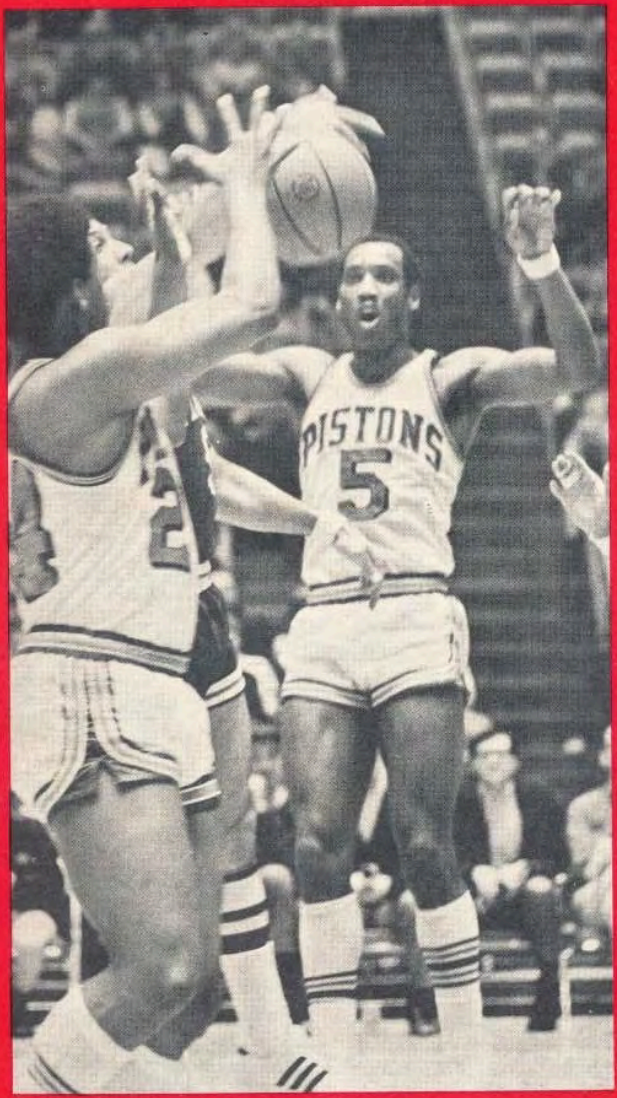
DETROIT PISTONS



1969-70 YEARBOOK

Stay loose.
This is the way it's going to be.

Of course, it may take our competitors some time to dope out the subtleties of the '70 Grand Prix.

Perhaps we can offer a few pointers.

Grand Prix is, above all, a driver's car. With an agile 118-inch wheelbase. A 400-cube V-8. (Or a 455 V-8 if you'd care to order it.) Power front disc brakes. And a cockpit where you usually find an overstuffed interior.

With that, those other guys should be able to start.

But we can't find one reason for you to wait. Not when the way it's going to be already is.

Meet the Pistons Head Coach

BILL VAN BREDA KOLFF

Call him Bill or Butch . . . Pronounce his last name – "Van BREADA-COUGH . . . He once was a sergeant in the marines and it was in the marines, too, his wife served . . . That's where they met and now are the parents of three daughters and a son . . . .

Van Breda Kolff brings a winning coaching record to the Pistons . . . After playing college ball at Princeton and later graduating from New York University, he spent parts of four seasons with the New York Knicks . . . He averaged 1.6, 4.1, 7.0 and 3.7 points as a Knick in 175 games . . . Began his coaching career at Hofstra College . . . moved to Lafayette . . . then Princeton . . . Had a combined college record of 307 victories against 109 losses . . . This includes a 103-31 mark at Princeton where he produced the Ivy League champs in four of the five seasons he was there . . . Two of Princeton teams qualified for NCAA playoffs . . . and it was there he coached Bill Bradley.

Became coach of the Los Angeles Lakers in 1967 and during first season with Lakers his team had a 52-30 record, finished second in the West, but reached NBA finals where Lakers lost to Boston in six games . . . Last season, the Lakers won the West title with a 55-27 record . . . again went to the playoff finals . . . once more met Boston . . . once more lost, but this time by two points in the seventh and final game.

Born in 1922, van Breda Kolff has signed a two-year contract with the Pistons . . . He's fiery and blunt and in his two seasons with Lakers was slapped with frequent technical fouls . . . but he says the number decreased sharply last season.

When he took job with the Pistons he declared: "Coaching can be fun . . . but fun can come only when you win."

PAUL SEYMOUR

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PROCUREMENT

From playing to coaching . . . from coaching to retirement back to coaching . . . then retirement again . . . then back to the basketball wars as a scout and assistant coach . . . then a head coach . . . and now the Pistons Director of Player Procurement.

That in capsule form is the Paul Seymour story.

A native of nearby Toledo, Ohio, Seymour still was in his 'teens when he began his pro basketball career with the old Baltimore Bullets in 1947. But he was traded to the Syracuse Nationals in February, 1948, and remained with the team for 11 seasons.

He was the Nats' perennial leaders in assists, free throws made and minutes played and averaged almost 10 points per Game. He was named the playing coach of the Nats in 1956-57 and guided the team for four years, fashioning records of 34-26, 41-31, 35-37 and 45-30. Then came one full season at St. Louis where the Hawks finished 51-28. He was dropped the following year by the Hawks after a 5-9 start and remained out of the NBA until 1965-66 when he returned to coach the Baltimore Bullets to a second-place finish with a 38-42 mark. Then retirement again.

In 1967-68 he was named the Pistons' assistant coach and chief scout and last season moved up as head coach in early December and finished the season with a 22-38 record. Then he asked to be relieved of the coaching job and was named to his new post with the Pistons.

Overall, Seymour's NBA teams won 271 and lost 241 in regular-season action and had a 14-19 playoff record. Seymour makes his home with his wife and two children in Syracuse.

HAROLD L. (Bud) SHOCKRO

PISTONS TRAINER

A native of Attleboro, Mass., Shockro will be starting his fourth season with the Pistons.

He has been identified with professional and college teams since 1958 when he joined the Chicago White Sox system. He served the Chisox for eight seasons before moving closer to home to join the Boston Red Sox system. He was with the Bosox' Pittsfield (Mass.) team this past summer.

Shockro also was associated with the Providence (R.I.) professional football team in 1963 and 1964 and trained the Providence College basketball and hockey teams from 1959-66.

He attended the Massachusetts School of Physiotherapy and the Nylin Massage School.

Shockro is single.

OTTO MOORE

BIRTH DATE – August 8, 1946
HEIGHT – 6-11 WEIGHT – 205
COLLEGE – Pan American RESIDENCE – Houston, Tex.

Played his college basketball at Pan American University in Texas where he scored 1880 points and hauled down 1679 rebounds, both records at the school which had been held by Lucious Jackson, now with the Philadelphia 76ers. . . . Was the No. 1 selection of the Pistons in 1968-69 . . . Speedy a-foot for a big man . . . able to run faster backward than most players do forward . . . Averaged 7.7 points and seven rebounds with Pistons as a rookie . . Was used chiefly in the role of substitute, both as a center and a cornerman . . . Exciting-type player who can bring down the audience by floating through the air, taking a pass and dunking the ball through the hoop . . . Originally from Miami, Florida, where he was a star on the high school scene . . . Spent past summer, "toughening himself up" for the cage wars ahead . . . Single.

JIMMY WALKER

BIRTH DATE – April 8, 1944
HEIGHT – 6-3 WEIGHT – 205
COLLEGE – Providence RESIDENCE – Roxbury, Mass.

Few players had a more glittering college career th. Walker did at Providence College . . . Smashed all Providence records with three-year total of 2,045 points for a 25.2-point average during his varsity career . . . Pistons' first pick and also the NBA's overall first choice in 1966-67 draft . . . His play as a pro has been a disappointment so far . . . Averaged 8.8 points as a rookie and 11.7 in his second season with Pistons . . . Nevertheless, he still is considered a good bet for stardom in the NBA . . . Has one of the best "eyes" in the league and has made numerous "impossible" passes to teammates . . . Grew up in shadow of Boston Celtics and credits players like Sam Jones and Bill Russell for his success in basketball . . . Single.

PAUL LONG

BIRTH DATE — February 8, 1944 — HEIGHT — 6-2
COLLEGE — Wake Forest — WEIGHT — 180
RESIDENCE — Louisville, Kentucky

Back for a third chance with the Pistons after being lost in the expansion draft. Long played his college ball at Virginia Tech for two years and then switched to Wake Forest. Was Wake Forest's captain as a senior . . . Great shooter averaging .503 (235 out of 467) and .513 (235 out of 458) as junior and senior respectively, from the field and shot 86.9 and 83.0 percent from the charity line.

TOM WORKMAN

BIRTH DATE: November 14, 1944 — HEIGHT — 6-7
COLLEGE — Seattle U. — WEIGHT — 220
RESIDENCE — Baltimore, Md.

Workman, acquired by the Pistons on waivers from the Baltimore Bullets, is hopeful the sun is about to shine over him. Drafted No. 1 by the St. Louis Hawks in 1967, he found it difficult to crack the Hawks' lineup. He was traded in mid-season to Baltimore and in his first game with the Bullets suffered a knee injury that kept him out of action the rest of the year. With the Bullets last season, he found it tough to crack into action with Baltimore powerful on the front line. His knee has been pronounced healthy again . . . Has appeared in a total of 41 NBA games in two seasons.

STEVE MIX

BIRTH DATE — December 30, 1947 — HEIGHT — 6-7
COLLEGE — Toledo University — WEIGHT — 215
RESIDENCE — Toledo, Ohio

Selected fourth overall by the Pistons, but in the fifth round in 1969 draft . . . Mix smashed just about every major Toledo University record during his three-year varsity career . . . Top career marks were: Points — 1676; Rebounds — 872 . . . He also set marks for most points in a season (578) and rebounds in a season (338), plus game records for points (47) and rebounds (25) . . . Shot at a 53.3 percent clip during college career . . . Averaged 23.0, 21.8 and 24.1 points, respectively, from sophomore through his senior season at Toledo . . . Starred at center in college, now must make transition to a corner slot.

GEORGE REYNOLDS

BIRTH DATE — November 23, 1947 — HEIGHT — 6-4
COLLEGE — Houston U. — WEIGHT — 198
RESIDENCE — Newark, N. J.

Selected ninth by Pistons in 1969 draft . . . One of stalwarts on Houston University varsity . . . Averaged 10 points and 12.9 points in two years of varsity play . . . Excellent shooter, clicking on 53.4 percent of his field goal attempts . . . Paced Houston in assists in both his seasons on varsity . . . Great crowd pleaser because of his ability constantly to hustle during games . . . Hit his college high of 22 points against Western Kentucky in the Sugar Bowl tournament last winter.

PISTONS ON WJR

The Detroit Pistons will be carried on Radio Station WJR during the 1969-70 season.

A minimum of 50 games -- 37 at home and 13 on the road -- are slated to be aired with Paul Carey, the assistant sports director of WJR, describing the play-by-play. He'll be assisted by veteran Detroit sportscaster Milt Hopwood, who has handled Pistons' broadcasts for the past four years.

The Stroh Brewery Co. of Detroit will be the principal sponsors of the Pistons broadcasts.

In addition to games from Cobo Arena, Carey and Hopwood will visit the other eastern and mid-western cities to send the broadcasts back to Detroit.

Big, strong and stylish. This is the way it's going to be.

Looks like a whole lot of designers got caught looking. Again.

While they were building their traditional "big cars," we were building the most luxurious Pontiac Bonneville ever. (So luxurious our upholstery has been attacked as unfair competition.)

We were also proving, once and for all, that being big is no excuse for being clumsy. With a new 455 V-8, firm suspension, Wide-Track stance.

Now, isn't that the way you want luxury to be? It is. At your Pontiac dealer's.

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way fun is going to be.

Whether you go for economy, or prefer tooling up and down the coast with a fine road machine. It's Pontiac's new LeMans Sport. A 250-cube, 155-hp six is standard. That's economy. Or you can order up to a 400-cuber with 330 V-8 ponies. That's performance, baby.

With all that engine talk, we don't want you to forget luxury. We didn't. Like that convertible below. Buckets in knit vinyl and expanded Morrokide. Wall-to-wall nylon-blend carpeting. Very spiffy.

You say driving's your sport? LeMans Sport. That's the way it's going to be.
